FOREIGN BROADCAST INFORMATION SERVICE

Of Special Interest This Week

+ EXPERIMENTAL SOVIET PRESSFAX - To speed delivery to Washington of the Soviet central newspapers, including PRAVDA and ISVESTIYA, FBIS this week began experimental transmission to Headquarters via INTERNET of the Soviet press facsimile transmissions received on the London Bureau ROSET. On an experimental basis, a number of pages from various Soviet newspapers--sent out by Moscow in a random manner--are now being successfully printed at FBIS Headquarters when the INTERNET system is not being used for live relay of Soviet television news. The operational system, due to be installed later this year, will permit simultaneous transmission of both pressfax and television. Once the system is fully operational, FBIS will have the capability to print and distribute to interested Agency consumers complete copies of selected Soviet newspapers by the time they are available on the streets of Moscow.
